

Please do not allow cell phone usage during flights. Air travel is already stressful enough without having to listen to multiple unrelated phone conversations at the same time. The background noise in cabins is so loud that individuals will have to use a loud voice to be understood on the other end.

If the airlines want to install a soundproof booth (similar to an additional restroom) than that should be the only area in the cabin that a call can be place.

Please for the sake of traveler's sanity and safety from each other do not allow cell phone usage in-flight.
